Woman's Club Adopts Youth Project, Mrs. J. K. Weems Named Chairman

"Freedom's future is in the hands of youth and it is imperative that young people everywhere be given a knowledge of freedom, that the youth of America be given a part in shaping their community," is the goal of a program being adopted by the Woman's club of Arcadia. This contest is called "Build Freedom with Youth" and is part of the 1951-52 program of the General Federated Women's clubs and of the Kroger company of Cincinnati, Ohio, who by its cooperation makes possible the giving of prizes. These will be given at the General Federated convention in Minneapolis in 1952.

Mrs. J. K. Weems has been named by Mrs. Bruce McAbery, club president, as chairman of the project. Mrs. Weems has appointed a committee and has called a meeting for Monday, June 25, at 1 p.m. in the clubhouse foyer, when it is hoped that youth leaders and representatives of youth groups will be present. Plans formulated will be activated immediately.

"No club activity offers a greater challenge or a greater personal reward than work in behalf of youth," states Mrs. Weems. "There is an obligation to be met today, and in the midst of conflicting ideas and confusion it is vitally important that we do our utmost to defend the American ideal of freedom. A part of this task is the education of our young people to the advantages of our way of life as contrasted to that in totalitarian countries."

The international relations department of the club of which Mrs. Weems is chairman, has adopted the project as its program for the year. The following committee has been appointed by Mrs. Weems: Mmes. John T. Simpson, John P. Ross, Ray Allen Young, Wood

Glover, Charles Ganther, Charles Gerry, Andrew Frohlich, Ardene Boller, L. R. Short, E. J. Fuerst, Verne Winchell, Albert Weickert, E. V. DeGero, B. E. Turner, Richard Hill, S. J. Nock, A. C. Heilman, Earl Dettra, Henry Reiss, F. B. Stratford, Thatcher Jordan, I. H. Satterthwaite, Margaret Brown, Elmer Sieh and Catherine Mundy.

Mrs. McAbery New President

"Progress" was the theme chosen for the Women's Club of Arcadia installation tea yesterday afternoon.

A huge wheel, decorated in the club colors, pink and green, stood in the center of the stage. As each new officer was brought forward by the escorts, Mmes. Edward Heiss and Richard C. Owens, she placed a miniature wheel tied with a corsage of pink carnations and green streamers on each spoke of the wheel.

Mrs. J. K. Weems, junior past president, installed Mmes. Bruce McAbery, president; John T. Simpson, first vice-president; L. R. Short, second vice-president; Robert Munro, recording secretary; Ralph George, corresponding secretary; W. D. Gibbs, federation secretary; John Balthes, treasurer; Ivan C. Timmons, program chairman; R. W. Straub, parliamentarian; R. H. Lane, senior trustee; Thurmond Keim, junior trustee; and B. E. Turner, ways and means chairman.

Retiring president, Mrs. Charles Ganther, was presented a plaque by the group.

NEW PRESIDENT—Mrs. Bruce McAbery was installed president of the Woman's club of Arcadia yesterday in impressive ceremonies conducted by Mrs. J. K. Weems, a past president. "Wheels of Progress" was the theme of the installation ceremony. Others taking office with Mrs. McAbery were Mmes. John T. Simpson, first vice-president; L. R. Short, second vice-president; Robert Munro, recording secretary; Ralph George, corresponding secretary; William Gibbs, federation secretary; John Balthes, treasurer; Richard Straub, parliamentarian; B. There will be enticing booths

In the interim between the country fair and the street festival an interesting youth concert program will be given by Mel Pratt and his accordion band. Mrs. John P. Ross, youth concert coordinator, has arranged this as the first in a series of three or four concerts to be given cordian band is sponsored by the Arcadia Kiwanis club.

Additional entertainment arranged for by Mrs. F. B. Stratford includes dance numbers by Mel Kaiser's pu-

Build Freedom with Youth Country Fair Draws Large Crowd, Voted Huge Success

"The Build Freedom With Youth" country fair given last Saturday in the Woman's clubhouse is now a memory—and what a memory. Starting at 10 a. m. and running until midnight, the gala fair proved to be a greater success than the most ardent workers in the cause had dreamed of. The auditorium was packed to capacity for the buffet-style dinner and for the entertainment and awarding of prizes that followed. Square dancing to Duke Ellington's calling and live music closed the memorable occasion. Mrs. B. E. Turner, now en route to Hawaii on the Lurline, was chairman of the fair.

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the "Build Freedom With Youth" project of the Woman's club of Arcadia, expressed sincere thanks to the entire population of Arcadia for its support of the youth program. She said, "Never before in history has there been as much need for such a program, and the conditions of the entire world are such that clubwomen can no longer sit idly by in the battle for the minds of our youth."

Mel Pratt and his accordion band, an adopted project of the projects branch of the committee, was introduced by Mrs. John Ross, coordinator. Mel and his popular band of young people received a rousing welcome from the audience. Melvin Kaiser presented a group of his students in an outstanding program featuring freedom of youth in dances representing different countries of the world.

The following prizes were awarded to lucky winners by Mrs. L. R. Short, who obtained the prizes: Max Dillman, Arcadia, case of McMillan motor oil and Trafari necklace and earrings; Mrs. L. A. Woman's Club Project Draws Approval Of Youth Organizations of Arcadia

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the "Build Freedom With Youth" project of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, met with enthusiastic response from members of her committee, from representatives of youth organizations and from youth leaders at a meeting called by her last Monday in the foyer of the clubhouse.

The "Build Freedom With Youth" contest is part of the 1951-52 program of the General Federated Women's clubs, and has been adopted by the Woman's club of Arcadia as its chief project of the year. The purpose of the program is to encourage young people to learn the advantages of democratic form of government as contrasted to that of totalitarian countries by a more active participation in the affairs of their community.

Mrs. Weems introduced Mrs. Bruce McAbery, club president, who pledged her support. All present were asked by Mrs. Weems to present their ideas and during the discussion the groundwork for the program was laid. The next meeting will be held July 23 at 1 p. m. in the clubhouse and during the interim the youth leaders were asked to contact their own organizations to determine what is considered the most necessary and what will do the most good for the young people of the community.

Mrs. Weems stated the program has two phases, projects and fund raising. She divided her committee into two branches, the steering branch headed by Mrs. John T. Simpson, which will determine the projects, and the fund-raising branch to raise the funds to carry out the projects. This branch is headed by Mrs. B. E. Turner, who is planning a country fair to be held Sept. 29 in the clubhouse. Mrs. Weems stated that all money derived from the fair will be placed in the Woman's club treasury, and that all, or in part, whichever the executive board decides upon, will go toward the projects decided upon by the steering branch of the committee.

The following projects came up for discussion and will be acted upon at the July meeting: summer concerts in the park, little theater group, music and art scholarships, "I Am an American Day," an employment survey; the arboretum, a limerick contest, career day for vocational students, and last but not least, a recreation center with dancing ranking as the first requisite.

Mrs. Weems named the following to assist Mrs. Simpson: Mrs. John P. Ross, Mrs. Ardene Butler, Mrs. E. J. Fuerst, Mrs. Albert Weickert, Mildred Godfrey, May Morris and George Clinger.

Mrs. Hallman acted as secretary during the business session. In closing the meeting, Mrs. Weems expressed great satisfaction at the interest shown by the young people and members of the committee.

Plans Go Forward for Woman's Club Project, 'Build Freedom With Youth'

With the completion of the program book for the country fair and with the cooperation and generous support of the business people of Arcadia in the project, "Build Freedom With Youth," enthusiasm has reached a new high among members of the committee, who are going forward with a renewed vigor to put the project over the top.

The "Build Freedom With Youth" contest was adopted by the General Federation of Women's clubs as a program to encourage the ideals of democracy in youth by giving it a more active participation in community affairs. The Woman's club of Arcadia adopted the program as its chief project of the 1951-52 season.

Mrs. Bruce McABery, president of the club, named Mrs. J. K. Weems, a past president, as general chairman of the program. Mrs. Weems appointed a committee and named two vice-chairmen: Mrs. John T. Simpson heading the projects branch, and Mrs. B. E. Turner heading the finance branch.

Mrs. Turner is planning a gala country fair to be held Sept. 29 in the clubhouse as a special event to raise funds to support the projects decided upon by that branch of the committee. Mrs. Turner reports that plans are rapidly nearing completion for the all-day affair, which is designed to furnish fun and entertainment for all.

It will start with a breakfast to be served from 7:30 a.m. to 12 noon at 25 cents a person. Various food companies will contribute their products and it will be given under the sponsorship of a local market.

The following have taken space in the program book for the country fair: Carpenter's Santa Anita Marsh pharmacy, Cafe-Stan, Barney, El Rancho Children's shop, El Rancho market, Marberry's Arcadia Motors, Streamliner, Culligan Soft Water service, E. Chairman of 'Build Freedom With Youth' Thanks Arcadians For Assistance

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the "Build Freedom with Youth" project of the Woman's club of Arcadia, announces that the advertising project of the program is a huge success. Five thousand books heralding the country fair to be held Sept. 29 at the Woman's clubhouse will soon be released and distributed by the youth of Arcadia, who are participating in the Build Freedom with Youth contest.

Mrs. Weems stated "The success of this project was due to the spirit of 'not what we have, but what we have,' which prevailed throughout Arcadia during the two weeks' campaign. The net result is a nice step toward our goal for Mrs. B. E. Turner, vice-chairman in charge of funds, and is also an expression of the high caliber of citizens of Arcadia.

"When the committee of nine local clubwomen, consisting of Mmes. Frances Heilman, Mary Young, Audrey Short, Irma Clinger, Marge Owens, Madge Bair, Ione Weickert, Florence Timmons and Mary J. Fuerst began the campaign I had an anxious heart, but I had not reckoned with the zeal and enthusiasm they had in the youth program. Although I had cleared the way for them through the Chamber of Commerce, I did not know how much fine ground work had been done behind the scenes by the leaders of various business-ness organizations. One busy man went out and sold 12 pages of advertising. Courtesy, genial response and encouragement, advertising, donations of gifts for the country fair, donations of gifts from those not wishing to advertise, met the women at every door. Arcadia businessmen certainly taught us what it means to live in Arcadia and what a fine project they think the 'Build Freedom with Youth' contest is.

"Inasmuch as they have given their time, money, loyalty and support of every kind to the project, the clubwomen give these business and professional men our support. How well we know that people who help sculpture tomorrow by providing adequate protection, opportunities and training for our girls and boys will never sell us short. 'Strength United Is Stronger' is the motto of the Arcadia Woman's club, let us apply it to make Arcadia stronger."

Speaking of the revised list of projects, Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the Woman's club BFWY committee, said, "We feel these projects are the answer to the needs of Arcadia community life. Certainly, most of them have been non-existent before. We feel our youth deserve the best efforts of our adult citizens and feel that those same citizens who contributed their time and money when the fund-raising drive for these projects was on will feel compensated to the fullest.

Of the new projects, the Arcadia high school library will be the most costly, with $500 to be spent for books for the library. Mrs. Weems and Mrs. John T. Simpson, projects chairman, will serve as coordinator on this project. Mrs. Wood Glover will serve as BFWY coordinator on the art project, which will contribute paintings valued at $300 for the new local high school, now in its first year. The paintings will be hung in the new high school plant when it is opened next year. Additionally, in benefit of the high school, the BFWY program will give a $50 contribution to the first student body fund of the school. Mrs. Simpson will serve as coordinator for this project.

Women's Division Hears Talk on Youth Project

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the "Build Freedom With Youth" project of the Woman's club of Arcadia, was guest speaker last Tuesday at the luncheon meeting of the women's division of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Joe Earll, president, officiated at the business meeting.

Mrs. Weems explained in detail the program which is one of the projects of the General Federation of Women's clubs for the 1951-52 season and was adopted to promote democracy by encouraging the young people an active part in community affairs. Many projects have been adopted by the committee and the country fair to be given Sept. 29 will raise funds to finance these. She invited the women of the division to join with the group.

Mrs. Mark Nottingham was appointed to investigate the possibility of the chamber group participating in a contest being conducted by the American magazine to select a family in the community that has made an outstanding contribution to community life.

The women's division has adopted as its principal project the Arcadia Welfare and Thrift shop, and Mrs. Elsie Galloway, manager of the shop, stated that the shop is contributing heavy clothing to the Presbyterian church and Red Cross drives for clothing for the people of Korea.

Public Invited To Conference On Leadership

The third Build Freedom With Youth project—Leadership conference—will be held Friday night, Nov. 16, at 8 in the clubhouse of the Woman's club of Arcadia, 324 South First avenue, with Mrs. Raymond Kennett as coordinator. The public is invited to participate in this event.

The program will consist of a panel of speakers from USC, whose topic will be the application of individual qualities of leadership to the community's good. A speaker from the Dale Carnegie Institute, whose topic—the individual qualities of leadership. A college student whose topic will be leadership in college, and a high school speaker on leadership in secondary schools.

Refreshments will be served following the program by Mrs. Kennett and Mrs. Simpson and their committee.

Youth Qualifications For Leadership Discussed by Panel at Woman's Club

Mrs. Raymond Kennett, coordinator for the Leadership Conference, and Councilman Kennett greeted the audience at the doors of the Woman's club Friday night for what proved to be one of the most outstanding projects of the contest. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. John T. Simpson and Mrs. Ray Allen Young.

In opening the meeting, Mrs. Kennett graciously presented the club president, Mrs. Bruce McAbery, Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the BFWY project, and Mrs. Simpson, first vice-president of the club.

She then introduced the first speaker, Thomas Cameron, member of the Clifford Bollman chapter of Dale Carnegie Institute, whose topic was "Qualities of Individual Leadership." In his discussion he pointed out that one needs ability, reliability, endurance and action. He stated that action is the supreme law of life and where you are going and the purposes of direction are primary qualities of leadership.

Kenneth H. Shanks, professor at USC, spoke on "Leadership Applied to Community Life." His five points were imagination, time, effort, a little money and ability to assume responsibility.

Bob Jansen, brilliant student from USC, who was born in Denmark, and attended school there through the second grade, held the audience spellbound as he pointed out that colleges are not achieving the leadership they should. His topic was, "The Test of Our Civilization Is the Kind of Man It Turns Out."

He stated that he felt the schools and colleges are prone to underestimate the ability of children and students all along the way. He said, "Students should have social and political awareness in their own schools and colleges. Youth in this country is not taught to think or to give the proper value to proper things. Often instead of a youth preparing for good citizenship he thinks the most important thing is to have a Cadillac like the Browns, and if he opens a magazine, he is assured that to be a social success, a home has to serve Philip Morris cigarettes."

Bill Prout, Monrovia-Duarte high school student, talked on "Leadership in Secondary Schools," and his definition was that leadership is empowering a group to action. He stated that a good leader is a good follower, that he must be courteous and have ability to delegate power. A question and answer period followed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ray Allen Young and Mrs. J. K. Weems following the program.

Public Invited to Leadership Confab At Woman's Clubhouse Tomorrow Night

Mrs. Raymond M. Kennett, coordinator of the Arcadia Woman's Club Community Leadership conference, this week extended an invitation to all residents of the city to attend the "Build Freedom With Youth" project, which will be held tomorrow evening at 8 in the Woman's clubhouse, 324 South First avenue.

Speakers for the important conference, including top experts in the various fields of community leadership, were listed yesterday by Mrs. Kennett as follows:

KENNETH H. SHANKS
... on leadership

Thomas Cameron, member of the Clifford Bollman chapter of the Dale Carnegie institute, who will speak on "Qualities of Individual Leadership"; Kenneth H. Shanks, professor at the University of Southern California, who will speak on the subject, "Leadership Applied to Community Life"; Bo Jansen, student at SC, who will speak on the subject, "Leadership in College," and a student from Monrovia-Duarte high school, who will discuss "Leadership in Secondary Schools."

This top panel of speakers will present the discussion on leadership, which is the third important phase of the Woman's club "Build Freedom With Youth" program. Several large universities have leadership classes in their programs and have held workshops on group dynamics and community leadership, but this is the first workshop of its kind to be held in Arcadia.

Cameron, who took basic and advanced courses and who has a background in sales and managerial work, is a member of a club of Carnegie institute graduates who lecture on the individual qualifications necessary for leadership.

Shanks, a professor in the speech department at SC, earned his bachelor's degree at Ohio State university and has almost completed work at SC for his doctorate. An extremely popular speaker at SC, he will talk here on the application of individual qualities of leadership for the community good.

Jansen is a member of the varsity debate team at SC and in the top half of the team. Also a popular speaker, he spoke last year at SC's debate banquet. His topic here will be leadership in college.

Following the program, refreshments will be served by Mrs. Kennett and Mrs. John T. Simpson, BFWY projects chairman, and their committee.

Work Begun on Jungle Area of Local Arboretum As Capital Improvement Program Continues

Plans this week went on the drafting board by the next master capital construction job at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum in Arcadia is work on the current program to be seen botanical garden, entered its final phase.

A tour led by Dr. Russell J. Seibert, director of the arboretum this week revealed physical improvements at the 116-acre site, most dramatic of which is the first development of the fabulous jungle area, which one day will be an exciting highlight of the botanical garden.

This jungle area, which will stretch along the north fence of the arboretum, mostly to the east of what is now the entrance, at the end of Old Ranch road, was launched on its planting program this week with the dense growth that has stretched along the shores of the lagoon being used to advantage—as an important site for the arboretum's cortisone experiments for the US government.

Personnel at the arboretum have chiseled an intricate series of paths through the jungle area, paths which visitors to the botanical garden one day will travel. Plans will be according to Dr. Seibert to plant new jungle plants and trees, some the old, so that as the present leaves grow and drop or die, so be replaced a new jungle will rise to take its place.

One of the most picturesque spots in the jungle area will be a thick, shaded cavern at the base of a huge fallen eucalyptus tree. The tree will be left where it has fallen, and ferns will be planted about its base, creating a natural jungle effect.

The arboretum's scientifically ina control for floodwaters running off streets of the adjacent Village area. When controlled by a floodgate, it is estimated that the natural spring-fed lagoon will be full year-round. In case of flood emergencies, it will overflow into the main lagoon.

The western acres, as made available by the sprinkler system installation and accessible by the double loop roadway, will be planted in the near future with material requiring three varying amounts of water. They will be used largely as a testing area for the next eight to 10 years. The area near the west end of the north fence will be planted in deciduous trees, gradually being graded into the jungle area to the east. The grounds from the central loop road, across the small lagoon and extending into the west acres somewhat, will be planted as a meadow, so as not to obscure the view of the western area.

Work is nearly completed on the regrading of the central loop road, and paving is already under way in one portion.

pt for the extension of Baldwin, a Los Angeles County street that is not a part of the arboretum development but which is important to the drainage of the reclamation grounds. The safety of the central lagoon has been taken care of by a new flood control box that has already kept the lagoon in precarious condition during winter months.

The new spillway is completed and ready to operate, except for the fact that the water must follow the natural fall of the Baldwin extension, and outlet pipes from the lagoon have been plugged until the extension is completed. Until these pipes are opened, the lagoon will remain in danger of spilling over its low banks in times of heavy rains.

ARBORETUM—See Page 16

The artificially created problem on arboretum grounds of drainage of water from Colorado has been solved in the northern acres of the botanical gardens with another concrete spillway at the end of a swail, which will meander across the northern acres from Colorado.

The lagoon has been relieved from these waters, however, by a 51-inch pipeline which bypasses the lagoon from the spillway and cuts across directly to the Baldwin extension. This engineering project must remain out of operation, too, until the extension is effected and some place provided for the water to go.

The swail itself will be about 8 feet wide and 3½ feet deep, winding across the grounds and used as an unusual planting base. Meanwhile, extensive transplanting has turned the entire area around the arboretum greenhouse and lathhouse into a veritable nursery, with thousands of plants ready to go into their test or permanent spots as soon as the various areas are made ready.

Work has not been begun as yet on the restoration of the three historical buildings at the arboretum—the Hugo Reid adobe, Queen Anne cottage and "Lucky" Baldwin Coach barn. First project to be undertaken, according to plans announced some months ago, will be the restoration of the Queen Anne cottage.

Memorial Tree Planting Honors Korea Heroes

BFWY Campaign Aids Arboretum

As a tribute to the high school youths who have given their lives in the Korean war—and as another step in the important Arcadia Woman's club "Build Freedom With Youth" program—a stately redwood tree was planted in special ceremonies held Tuesday morning on the grounds of the Los Angeles State and County arboretum here.

With Mrs. Ralph Hankins as Woman's club coordinator for the special event, the tree planting was attended by a group of local civic leaders. The project was the idea of BFWY Projects Chairman Mrs. John T. Simpson.

The memorial tree planting was in honor of the high school age Korean war dead, and officials of the Woman's club have announced their hope that the youth of Arcadia high school will perpetuate the project with an annual memorial tree planting.

Planted in ceremonies at the arboretum Tuesday, with Arboretum Director Dr. Russell J. Seibert officiating, was a "Dawn Redwood," known in international botanical language as the Metasequoia Glyptostroboidea. This particular species of tree was first collected in China in 1945. In 1948 it was described as a species new to science by Drs. Cheng and Wu of China. It was found to be a living remnant of what was previously considered an extinct fossil plant, representatives of which have been preserved not only in China but also in North America.

ical garden is seeking to derive cortisone, has been planted throughout the jungle area, and its vines will grow high through the tall trees, with its yellow and red flowers tossing clouds of bright color throughout the area.

Major steps in the capital improvement program are now nearing completion at the arboretum, with vast new planting areas being opened by the current project. The sprinkling system has been installed throughout the west acres, through the jungle area, and around the central loop roadway, to the Hugo Reid adobe. This sprinkling system has made possible the launching of the planting program in the jungle area.

Meanwhile, work is being completed on the paving of the central loop road and on the double loop road in the west acres. A spillway has been constructed in a small lagoon just south of the present administration building, a lagoon which will serve as a spot of natural beauty and as

Outstanding Program on 'Theater in Review' Given at Woman's Club

One of the most outstanding programs ever to be given at the Woman's club of Arcadia was presented Wednesday by Ross Van Nibroc, who began his career playing juvenile leads with George Arliss. During the luncheon, all members of the club who are teachers or who have been teachers were especially honored. This was a project of the "Build Freedom With Youth" program and Mrs. Wood Glover was coordinator.

Van Nibroc was unusually fine in his interpretation of Shakespearian roles and of Shaw's "St. John," which he stated would come to the Biltmore this year. He gave a review of "Caesar and Cleopatra," with Lawrence Olivier and Vivian Leigh, stating that Olivier and Leigh are king and queen of the theater in England, as compared to Lunt and Fontaine in the United States.

He closed with a hilarious take-off of a "Night at the Ballet," which created mirth in the audience.

Teachers introduced by Mrs. Bruce McAbery, club president, were Mmes. J. K. Weems, S. J. Nock, Eugenia Griffin, Margaret Brown, A. C. Heilman, B. E. Turner, Rudy Schwarzkopf, who was also celebrating her birthday; Albert Marchetti, Richard Owens, Phillip Libby, C. F. Noack, Hugh Sanborn, John Vanderbur and Fred Gamroth.

Mrs. Albert Green gave the devotionals and Mrs. Horace Self led in the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. George Cornelius, state chairman of speech on the board of education, was luncheon speaker. She stated "the definition of poise is the ability to raise an eyebrow instead of the roof." She also expressed her pride in the project that the Arcadia club had undertaken, saying that "so many accept the privileges of the general federation without the responsibilities."

A letter was read from Mrs. Constance Daugherty suggesting that the club adopt the second division of the 38th Infantry and send the men letters, stationery and magazines. The club adopted the suggestion. Luncheon was served by Mrs. John Simpson and the following committee: Mmes. Gregory Chase, John Ross, Charles Davidson, Clyde Dysart, Donald Dinsmoor, E. J. Frentress, John Elliott and J. V. Covell.

Mrs. B. E. Turner, ways and means chairman, announced that a box social will be held on Dec. 1 and a special musical program will be given. Mel Pratt of the Arcadia Music Mart will transport a small organ to the clubhouse for the occasion. Boxes will be $2 and will not be auctioned. Numbers will be drawn instead. A rummage sale will be held in Pasadena on March 26.

The leadership conference to be held Friday night was announced. Mrs. William Gibbs made a plea for toys, stating that the evening division was preparing toys for 250 children.

New members initiated were Mmes. Roy Lill, T. L. Sparks, Garth Brown, W. R. Chapman, R. E. Lamprich, Ralph E. Spencer, Richard E. Marsh and Temple Hoffman.

A representative from the Monrovia Coast Curric Ice Cream company was present and special ice cream cake for the luncheon was provided by the company as well as prizes. Winners were Mmes. Verne Winchell, Elmer Godfrey, Richard Hilf, Emma Mend, A. Woodruff, Florence Duffy, F. J. Gingsley, J. K. Weems and Miss Mary Valentine.

The program chairman, Mrs. Ivan Timmons, introduced the afternoon program. Van Nibroc stated that at the time he began his career with Arliss he expected his life to be over at 30, but since his 40s had come he had been appointed drama critic for several small newspapers and was also presented with a year's ticket to the festival plays in England. "So life is worth living after 40," he said.

Teachers To Be Given Tribute

Teachers' day observance will be held Nov. 7 as a project of the "Build Freedom With Youth" committee of the Woman's club of Arcadia at the regular meeting of the club. The club will honor all members now teaching and those who have taught in the past.

Mrs. George Cornelius will be speaker of the day. She has served as past president of Alhambra and San Gabriel AAHW, is a member of Alhambra and San Gabriel elementary and high school boards, is a past state chairman of education and served this year as chairman of speech.

Woman's Club Committee To Sponsor Luncheon

Plans have been formulated for a luncheon program to be given under the auspices of the Woman's club of Arcadia as part of its "Build Freedom With Youth" program.

This occasion will give Mrs. J. Victor Covell, coordinator, an opportunity to present student winners in the American Legion auxiliary's essay contest, which is conducted annually in local schools and throughout the state, as part of its Americanism activity.

The American Legion Auxiliary's official 18th district glee club, the Baldwin Park Choralettes, will furnish the music. The club is made up of young wives of World War II veterans and is under the leadership of Lula Vergate.

At the 1951 state convention of the American Legion Auxiliary, held in San Diego last September, this choral group won first place in its class and brought this honor to the 18th district, of which Mrs. Covell is president.

Dear Mrs. Weems:

On November 27 the Board of Education of the Arcadia Unified School District officially received your communication with the accompanying checks of $500 for the Arcadia High School library, $200 for paintings for the High School and the $50 check for the High School Student Body. I am directed to speak for the Board, the Administration and the entire community in expressing to the Build Freedom With Youth Committee and to the entire membership of the Woman's Club of Arcadia the very deep sense of appreciation which we all feel.

We have viewed with pride the interest of your organization in the young people of our community and have been grateful for the opportunity to cooperate with you in the fine list of projects which you have undertaken. The adults of Arcadia, by their actions and their examples, set the stage for the development of the type of citizens that we would like to develop. Your leadership in helping to define the needs of the young people of the community will constitute a real contribution.

The Arcadia High School Student Body has received the $50 for its treasury while the other two checks have been deposited to the credit of the District and the amounts will be specifically identified in next year's budget if the expenditures are not made before the end of this fiscal year. We will contact the club representatives referred to in your letter when the High School building and expansion program reaches a stage where we can foresee the needs more clearly.

High School Gets Woman's Club Gifts

Checks Presented In Three Projects

Official payment of $850 was made this week to the Arcadia high school by the civic-spirited "Build Freedom With Youth" committee of the Arcadia Woman's club.

In a letter to Superintendent of Schools Dr. Norvell R. Dice, Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the BFWY committee, said that the Woman's club "considers the Arcadia high school the most progressive step the community has taken in recent years."

Accompanying the letter were two checks—one for $500, to be used for the purchase of library books for the high school, and the other for $350, to be used for paintings for the new high school plant.

A second letter was addressed to Paul Dyer, president of the high school student body, and was accompanied with a $50 check—the first civic organizational contribution to the student body fund.

The contributions addressed to Dr. Dice said that they were being made, in part, "in appreciation of the splendid work you and Henry Moimo are doing, which we consider far beyond the actual requisites of your line of duty."

When the school district is ready to select paintings for the high school plant, Mrs. Weems said, Mrs. John Balthes, Woman's club treasurer; Mrs. Isabelle Satterthwaite, art instructor, and Mrs. Wood Glover, coordinator of the painting project, will offer their advice, if it is desired.

Coordinator of Project Plans Little Theater

Mrs. Ray Allen Young, coordinator of the little theater project of the "Build Freedom with Youth" program of the Woman's club of Arcadia, is making plans to organize a little theater and to produce a play before Christmas. At a meeting of the "Build Freedom with Youth" committee members of youth organizations expressed enthusiasm for such a project.

Mrs. Young asks all those interested in a little theater, to call her at DOuglas 7-1068, or address 357 West Duarte road. Mrs. Young made the suggestion of a little theater group to Henry S. Molino, principal of adult education of the Arcadia Unified School district, in reference to the speech and dramatic class taught by the Countess Elektra Rozanska.

Men Sought To Join Local Little Theater Group

Arcadia men this week will be given an opportunity to get themselves into a dramatic set-up, as the Arcadia Little Theater group, packed with good-looking women, makes an appeal for local male thespians to join up and get into the act.

The little theater group is co-sponsored by the Arcadia Adult Education department and the Arcadia Woman's club, which is supporting the project as a part of its "Build Freedom With Youth" program.

The little theater group is now in rehearsal under the direction of Countess Elektra Rozanska. It meets at First Avenue school each Wednesday evening at 7. All men interested in the organization, which eventually will present community plays, are invited to attend the next meeting of the group.

Movies

An excellent actress, Countess Rozanska has appeared in several movies with Nelson Eddy, Ronald Coleman, Betty Grable, Elsa Lanchester, and is seen occasionally in plays at the Pasadena Playhouse. She started her musical and dramatic career in her early teens with the Civic theater and has had as associate players Katherine Cornell, Ann Harding, William Powell, Frank and Ralph Morgan and many others at the Group and Repetone theaters in New York and Boston. She also presented many outstanding programs over NBC stations in the East.

Little Theater

Countess Rozanska's local class will follow the direction designated by its own members. The suggestion for the Little Theater organization has come from supporting members of the Woman's club drama department, headed by Mrs. Ray Allen Young, who have urged all interested Arcadians to attend the opening class Wednesday evening.

All forms of speech, including speech correction, will be taught by Countess Rozanska if her pupils desire such instruction. If the group moves to form the local Little Theater, she will supervise its operations and direct its productions.

The $1 admission fee which entitles adults to attend any and all classes offered by the adult education division, also pays for entrance into this class.

Mrs. Ray Allen Young, coordinator of the "Build Freedom With Youth" project of the Little Theater movement, was elected president of the newly formed Arcadia Little Theater group Nov. 7 in the Adult Education class of speech and drama, under the direction of Countess Rozanska, which has been the nucleus of persons interested in such a movement. This class in corrective speech and drama is provided by the Adult Evening high school for all persons 18 years or older who are interested in drama and speech.

In addition to Mrs. Young, the following members will hold the offices of the newly formed board: Mrs. Helene Lerner, vice-president; Charles F. Daniels, secretary; George Davidson, treasurer; Mrs. Marjorie Sorenson, publicity; Mrs. Dolores Willy, chairman of costume design; Countess Rozanska, director; and Mrs. Merle Regnier, assistant director.

Countess Rozanska is also director of the La Canada Little Theater group which she organized from her drama and speech class at the La Canada Junior high school last year.

The Arcadia Little Theater group is now in rehearsal, and members of the drama and speech class plan to present a group of plays sometime in late January.

This Little Theater movement is the culmination of a plan of a "Build Freedom With Youth" meeting held last summer in the Woman's clubhouse with representatives of all youth organizations in the city, and adult sponsoring groups. All of the youth representatives expressed their conviction of the need of this cultural activity in Arcadia.

Several years ago the drama department of the Woman's club of Arcadia instigated a movement for wholesome presentation of plays without the use of foul and blasphemous words which offend the ears of decent people. It was found at this time that there were no departments of city, county or state government which had the authority to censor language used on the stage. It is the object of this newly formed Little Theater group to present plays decent in language and wholesome in content.

Woman's Club Joins in Support of Countess Elektra Rozanska's Wednesday Course in Drama, Speech

What may turn into an Arcadia Little Theater group will be organized this week, when Countess Elektra Rozanska opens her Arcadia Adult Education division class in drama and speech. The weekly class, which meets in Room 4 of First Avenue school each Wednesday evening, from 7 to 10, is being co-sponsored by members of the drama department of the Arcadia Woman's club, and from it the little theater group is expected to be formed. Long considered as a step in the cultural advancement of the community, the Arcadia Little Theater group would stage local productions under the supervision of the adult education division and with the assistance and support of the Woman's club department.

Countess Elektra Rozanska is a noted singer, actress, newspaper columnist and broadcaster and the woman credited with having the "Star Spangled Banner" officially adopted as the national anthem of the United States.

The daughter of a Danish count, Countess Rozanska has a broad cultural background in the world of music, drama, opera, teaching and radio. Principal Henry S. Molino of the Arcadia Adult Education division has expressed extreme pleasure at having her as a member of the local staff.

She has sung in Europe and in the United States and has taught voice in all its branches—opera, elocution, public speaking, dramatics, breathing, radio and microphone.

Woman's Club To Bring Outstanding Speaker Here

The anti-narcotic campaign has long been a main issue of the youth conservation program of the General Federation of Women's clubs and every international federate club has a chairman in charge of this particular field of youth conservation. In line with this, the Woman's club of Arcadia, realizing the need of stronger narcotic controls, through its Build Freedom With Youth program, has adopted this as one of its most worthwhile projects. Mrs. Verne Winchell has been named coordinator.

The objective of this project is to get local legislature to control the addicts much the same way the smallpox is controlled. The club urges that the addicts be confined for a longer period of time so that the craving for the drugs will have abated, and that the source of the drugs will have been controlled.

In cooperation with this, the club is bringing an outstanding youth authority and speaker widely known for his work in youth organization and character building activities, the Arcadia Woman's club on Wednesday, Jan. 12, at 12 noon.

He is a staff speaker of the Narcotic Educational Foundation of America, an organization working with the police departments, the churches and the educators in every state, in united effort to combat increasing delinquency and narcotic use. He gives an up-to-the-minute address with warning that fairly rings with a challenge for action.

Because of the excellent work done by this organization, most all denominations have endorsed this program, which is based on the goal of reaching every child with warning and moral uplift.

BFWY Project Brings Important Narcotics Talk to Woman's Club

"Parental and juvenile delinquency has created a situation unparalleled in the history of America," stated M. L. Williams, outstanding youth authority and speaker, as he presented a startling picture of narcotics addiction in the youth of America to a large audience last week at the Woman's club of Arcadia. He is affiliated with the Narcotic Educational Foundation of America, and was brought to the Woman's club under the auspices of the "Build Freedom With Youth" program, a project of the club.

The speaker cited appalling statistics of narcotic usage among youth. He stated that 50 per cent of the marijuana users are children of 13 and that there are records of several 9-year-olds becoming peddlers. He said that marijuana, rightly called the assassin of youth, is the first step, but soon it is not strong enough, and the young user is then introduced to heroin; from then on, the road is a pitiful one leading to a life of living death, as there are less than 5 per cent who can be cured.

"Two great wars have been fought and we are engaged in another, all creating such a tremendous pressure of life that the citizenry of the country has been unaware of the situation," Williams said, "and this, coupled with the fact that the institutions are so overcrowded that addicts cannot be taken care of properly, has brought the situation to its present condition."

It is especially serious in the United States because dope addiction is being carried as a new habit to circles which heretofore were not contaminated, he said. It is making dangerous inroads into the large cities among the youth, so many of whom already are cigarette smokers and easy victims to a new "kick" and thrill habit. Police officers in some of the large cities report that so many crimes can be traced to the use of marijuana that the vice has become a major police problem, he said.

Williams stated that in his opinion Soviet Russia hoped to weaken America from within by the infiltration of the drug to the youth of the country, that there is no better way to overrun a country than to corrupt it internally. Forty per cent more opium is being produced than can be used by the medical profession and when an international council tried to ban the growing of so much, only Communist China refused to go along.

Williams said that the boys fighting in Korea are being sold the drug for 15 cents a shot. The problem of narcotics is more serious than the war in Korea, than cancer, polio and heart trouble, and "if the citizens of tomorrow are not to be criminals, harlots and thieves the people must realize the gravity of the situation." He gave as the solution of the problem the education of both young and old and the active cooperation of all churches, schools and other institutions. He urged parents to know what their children are doing and with whom they are associating.

At the brief business session minutes of the last meeting, prepared by the secretary, Mrs. Peggy Hilt, were read and approved. Attention was called to a luncheon to be given by the department on Thursday, Feb. 14, at which a well known speaker will be the featured attraction. Hostesses for the day will be Mmes. May Glover and Rose Lane.

Mrs. Glover, program chairman, announced that no formal program had been prepared for the afternoon session, but each member present would be asked to contribute an account of a happy Christmas celebration out of her own experience.

Santa Claus, ably impersonated by Mrs. Glover, gave each member a number entitling her to one of the exchange gifts which had been brought for the occasion, and additional gifts were on hand for presentation to the Casa Collins Home. These were delivered by Mrs. Grace Schwartzkopf, accompanied by Mmes. Emma Meade and Alice Moss. With best wishes for the yuletide from the chairman, members dis-

Humor and gravity combined to make an entertaining and educational program at the first meeting of the new year for Arcadia Woman's Club.

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president, welcomed the many members present, extending New Year's greetings during the luncheon period.

Mrs. Verne Winchell Jr., one of the leaders of the club's "Build Freedom With Youth" project introduced the serious part of the program, that dealing with traffic in narcotics among the youth of the country. M. L. Williams, staff speaker of the Narcotic Educational Foundation of America, spoke, revealing startling statistics regarding marijuana use among high school students, "which has reached some of Arcadia's boys and girls," he revealed. He warned members to be on the alert at all times. His timely and well received address left the audience with much to ponder over and consider.

My dear Mrs. Fuerst:

Your note of December 5 and the unanticipated gift of $300 from The Woman's Club of Arcadia brought great pleasure to us here at the Institute of International Education.

We appreciate deeply the contribution, which will provide substantial assistance to one more foreign exchange student. But we are equally gratified by the spirit and conviction behind your gift.

We feel strongly that the education of promising young people from abroad in the American way of life is the best possible foundation for world understanding and peace. It is heartening indeed to find that you in Arcadia, California, are thinking and working with us.

Your check has been added to the fund established by the General Federation of Women's Clubs. When the Arcadia contribution is withdrawn, we shall be very glad to let you know how it is used, and for whom.

With gratitude and best wishes for the success of your foreign student project.

Cordially,

STUDENT EXCHANGE—Mrs. E. J. Fuerst is coordinator of the student exchange, a project of the Build Freedom with Youth committee, which voted $300 for this purpose. The General Federation of Women's clubs cooperates with the Institute of International Education in selecting its Pan-American student. Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the BFWY, stated an exchange of students can do a great deal to promote international good will. Scholarships are offered throughout the world for this purpose, many of which are not complete. A total scholarship is a package containing international transportation, room, board, tuition and incidental expenses. "We feel that this is one of the most progressive projects to be voted by the BFWY committee."

Student Loan Fund Set Up by BFWY Group

A student loan fund of $1000 has been set up by the Build Freedom with Youth committee of the Woman's club of Arcadia, and Mrs. Charles Ganther, a past president, has been named coordinator.

The fund is to be used for the purpose of assisting a deserving Arcadia student, who will be selected with the assistance of the Arcadia Unified School district. Mrs. J. H. Weems, chairman of BFWY program, states that this is a memorial fund that can never be used for other purposes than the assistance of the youth of Arcadia. The service will begin within a month.

In making its decision on the educational funds, the BFWY committee, at the recommendation of Mrs. Ganther, considered the dire need of nurses for the Korean crisis. In March of this year, a check of $50 was forwarded from the Woman's club to Mrs. C. H. O'Neal of Pasadena, district chairman on nurses scholarships, and on Dec. 10, another check of $100 will be sent for the same purpose. The money will be used for a student nurse in the area of Arcadia who began her training in September at the Huntington Memorial hospital.

Dear Mrs. Weems.

I feel humbly grateful to you because of the scholarship which has been given me and I shall try to prove worthy of your choice.

Sincerely Yours,

Arcadia Units Undertake Children's Gift Project

BY ELIZABETH GOODLAND

Nearly 200 underprivileged children in Arcadia, including many orphans, will receive Christmas gifts they particularly want — and other gifts as well.

The evening division of the Arcadia Woman's Club undertook the project of determining the needs of these children, ranging in ages from 6 months to 17 years, and then obtaining the gifts.

The home of Mrs. W. D. Gibbs, 1504 S Santa Anita Drive, Arcadia, has been the depository for hundreds of gifts. Sixteen members of the division have worked daily in two shifts to wrap, tag and pack the parcels.

Mrs. R. A. Munro is chairman. Working with her and Mrs. Gibbs are Mes. Ted Ford, F. C. Stratford, H. A. Birke, A. W. Anger, A. Morris Collins, Eleanor Stairs, Temple Hoffman, Robert Titgemeyer, Vern Mitchell, William S. Bradner, C. A. McElderry, and D. E. Marsh.

Toys Reconditioned

The committee reconditioned some toys and painted others. Another group wrapped and tagged more than 300 gifts, including dolls, toy animals, cosmetics, new garments, underclothing, wallets, pen and pencil sets. Youth groups were called upon to help supply the kind of articles that young persons of comparable age like to have.

The 4-H Club of Arcadia, directed by Mrs. James F. Thompson, made 12 skirts for girls and 12 sport shirts for older boys. A generous cash donation was made by the Arcadia Rotary and an anonymous donor made possible the purchase of sweaters to match the skirts.

Lambda Chi Theta supplied gifts, and members of the Arcadia Red Cross Chapter production department dressed new dolls and repaired used clothing.

Harry Russell To Head Recreation Group Again; Program Successful

The election of Harry Russell to serve another term as chairman and the revelation that participation in the summer playground program is almost 3,000 youngsters greater than last year topped this week's meeting of the Arcadia Recreation commission, held Monday night in the recreation department office in the city hall.

Russell was elected unanimously to the top post with the commission.

Under the new city charter, the commission's secretary will be appointed by Arcadia's new city manager, when he is hired. The commission also took official action under the charter to set the first Monday of each month as its meeting date.

In other major action Monday night, the commission authorized Recreation Director Ken Scott to cooperate with the Arcadia Woman's club in its "Build Freedom With Youth" program in staging a special event.

Growth of the city's accelerated summer program was revealed in Scott's official report for the month of July, a report which showed a total of 9748 youngsters to be participating in the playground program alone, as compared with 6345 who participated last year. Breakdown shows 1904 at Santa Anita school, 2615 at Hugo Road, 969 at Vista, 1697 at Holly Avenue, 1599 at First Avenue and 964 at Highland Oaks.

In addition, a total of 1860 girls took part in the day camping program jointly sponsored by the recreation department and the Camp Fire Girls and Girl Scouts.

Ninety youngsters are entered in the self-supporting tap and ballet classes, 268 in the teen age square dances, 2900 spectators and 320 players in the softball program and 1100 in the kids' baseball leagues—for a grand total in special events of 6528.

Total participation in regular and special events is 16,286 on daily average of 740, as compared with last year's July total of 13,095 on daily average of 650.

Regular teen-age square dance will be held by the Arcadia Recreation department a week from tonight in the cafeteria of Santa Anita school, with Duke and Kay Wellington handling the affair.

Mrs. Bruce McAbery Presides at First Meeting of Woman's Club in New Year

Mrs. Bruce McAbery, president of the Woman's club of Arcadia, presided graciously at last week's meeting, stating that she thought the proper way to open the first meeting of the year was to wish a "happy new year" to all.

M. L. Williams, well known youth authority and speaker affiliated with the Narcotic Education Foundation of America, in a talk given during the luncheon period, startled his large audience of clubwomen with his statistics on narcotic usage among the young. He was brought to the club by the "Build Freedom With Youth" program, a project of the Woman's club of Arcadia, and was introduced by Mrs. Verne Winchell, BFWY coordinator.

Seated at the head table were the guest speaker, Henry Molino, Mrs. Verne Winchell, Mrs. John T. Simpson, Mrs. Charles Gerry, Mrs. Ralph Hankins, Mrs. Robert Munro, Mrs. Ray Fortner, Mrs. M. L. Deushane, Mrs. Robert Straub, Mrs. Rudy Schwarzkopf, Mrs. E. J. Fuerst and Mrs. John Balthes.

Mrs. Weems announced the project of the BFWY program, the American citizen rally to be held Jan. 30 in the Arcadia armory at which time Lt. Gov. Goodwin Knight will be guest speaker. Mrs.

B. E. Turner, ways and means chairman, stated that a salad luncheon-card party will be held Jan. 25 in the clubhouse, and reminded members of the rummage sale to be held March 25 and 26.

Mrs. Ivan Timmons, program chairman, introduced a fascinating program when she presented George L. Boston to the audience. For many years associated with Thurston Blackstone and Nicola, famous magicians, Boston has made a thorough search of scientific data dealing with mental telepathy and spiritualism. He told the audience how people are deceived by even the best in this field. He demonstrated card tricks and enacted a materialization scene in a seance room of a medium.

KNIGHT ADDRESSES CROWD AT ARCADIA CITIZENSHIP RALLY

Mixing serious thought and humor expertly, to the great pleasure of his audience, Lt. Gov. Goodwin Knight addressed a sizable gathering of local people Wednesday night at the big "Build Freedom with Youth" American citizenship rally of the Arcadia Woman's club at the new National Guard armory.

Sharing honors with Knight were Arcadia representatives to Boys' and Girls' State, Drew Frohlich and Barbara Gehring, from MD high school, which also furnished the beautiful singing of its a cappella choir for the occasion, under the direction of Chester Ulloni.

Spotting an old friend, Mrs. Buron Fitts of Arcadia, Knight regaled his audience with humorous comparisons of his job today and the conditions under which Fitts served in a similar capacity more than 20 years ago as, incidentally, the youngest man ever to hold that high post in this state.

Knight suggested as an explanation of socialism for student minds that it be compared to a system in which the "A" student grades and the "F" student grades, and all those in between were shuffled together -- and everybody came out with a "C." He suggested considerable doubt that such a plan is fair, would meet with general approval or would work in the long run.

Mayor T. C. Sullivan Sr. was introduced by Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman of the BFWY committee and general chairman of the event, and served as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Weems was aided by Mrs. A. C. Hellman, coordinator; Mrs. John T. Simpson, projects chairman, and Misses Leonard Short, Ralph George and J. P. Harrison.

Jointly sponsored by the American Legion, the Legion's rally committee included Judge David T. Sweet, vice-commander of the 18th district, as chairman; Ed Newman, post commander, and Col. Frank Benedict, Americanism chairman for the local post.

John Home, state Legion commander, was introduced by Judge Sweet, and he in turn introduced Knight.

George Osborn, president of the Arcadia Republican club, was in charge of the speakers' committee, as well as the arrangements for registration at the door of all voters in need of this service. Invocation was by the Rev. Henry Egan, pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration.

At the close of the rally, Mrs. Mrs. Bruce McAbery, Woman's club president, led the assemblage in the singing of the national anthem.

Junior Symphony Orchestra To Give Concert

The clubhouse of the Woman's club of Arcadia will be the setting the afternoon of Feb. 3 for a candlelight symphony concert to be given from 4 to 6 o'clock by a junior symphony orchestra under the direction of Harold H. Scott.

The concert and the recruitment and training of the young people in the orchestra is a project of the "Build Freedom With Youth" program of the Woman's club. Mrs. John P. Ross is coordinator of the project, and Mrs. Nancy Hutton is recruitment chairman.

This is the first time that a junior symphony orchestra has been organized in the valley, and in its search for worthy youth projects to sponsor, the BFWY committee felt that to organize a junior symphony orchestra and to give a concert was a very special objective.

The committee contributed $250 which is being used for six months training for the young people and for one concert.

Following the musical event, a tea will be held in the foyer of the clubhouse, and pouring will be Mrs. Bruce McAbert, club president; and Mrs. John T. Simpson, first vice-president of the club and projects chairman of the committee. Assisting will be Mrs. H. J. Bair and Mrs. LeRoy Anderson.

Serving on Mrs. Ross' committee are Meses. Anderson, Catherine Mundy, Bair, Samuel J. Nock, E. J. Prentress, Thatcher Jordan and Miss Mary Valentine.

CONCERT PLANS—Harold H. Scott, director of the Junior Symphony orchestra, talks over concert plans with members of the orchestra. Junior Symphony Rehearses for Candlelight Concert in Woman's Club

An invitation has been extended to the public to attend a candlelight concert to be given Sunday afternoon, Feb. 3, from 4 to 6 o'clock, by the Junior Symphony orchestra under the direction of Harold H. Scott, in the auditorium of the Arcadia Woman's clubhouse, 324 South First avenue. Following the concert, tea will be served in the foyer of the clubhouse.

Presentation of the concert, organization of the orchestra and training of the young musicians, is a project of the Build Freedom With Youth committee of the Woman's club, of which Mrs. J. K. Weems is chairman.

The BFWY committee in its search to find ways to assist the young people of the community discovered the need of a junior orchestra. There are many young students in the area who have a rich musical background but lack the experience derived from ensemble playing that is so necessary for their development. Through this BFWY project they will be trained, and as they progress and reach the required age will be eligible to membership in the San Gabriel Symphony orchestra, and other comparable orchestral groups.

The proposal of the committee met with the approval of the Woman's club and the idea took form as a Junior Symphony orchestra. Mrs. John P. Ross was named coordinator for the BFWY, and Mrs. J. E. Hutton, talent recruitment and publicity. The assisting committee is composed of Meses. LeRoy Anderson, H. J. Blair, T. G. Connor, W. D. Gibbs, Thatcher Jordan, Verne Winchell, Catherine Mundy and Miss Mary Valentine.

Harold Scott, director of instrumental music at Monrovia-Duarte high school, is directing the junior orchestra. Membership is open to music students between the ages of 11 and 21 who are residents of towns within the confines of the San Gabriel valley.

There was an enthusiastic response, and the first rehearsal was held in the band room of the high school with 47 present. Rehearsals are being held each week and the membership has increased. Observers at the rehearsals state that the progress shown by the junior orchestra is amazing, and an outstanding concert is anticipated.

Mrs. Ross has called a meeting of the committee for tomorrow afternoon at 2 at her home 314 East Camino Real.

CONDUCTOR — Harold Scott, conductor of the San Gabriel Valley Symphony, is directing a new Junior Symphony, for musicians between 10 and 20, with the first rehearsal set for Tuesday from 6:45 to 8:30 p.m. at Monrovia-Duarte High School. For information call Mrs. J. E. Hutton, Douglas 7-3060. Sponsorship is by the Arcadia Woman's Club.

Junior Symphony Tops Woman's Club 'Build Freedom With Youth' Program

By CATHERINE MUNDY

Many splendid projects have been sponsored by the "Build Freedom With Youth" committee of the Woman's club of Arcadia, but the crowning achievement of the committee was the concert presented last Sunday afternoon by the newly organized San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Harold H. Scott, in the Arcadia Woman's clubhouse. The large audience of parents, friends and club members overflowed the auditorium into the solarium and foyer.

The remarkable fact about the concert was that the young musicians, 51 boys and girls, had only four rehearsals—seven hours of actual practice, in which to prepare for the concert. Their musicianship and ability to follow direction was outstanding, and Scott, who has a long record of achievements in directing musical groups, chalked up another triumph.

Mrs. J. K. Weems, general chairman of the BFWY committee, thanked Scott for his interest in the orchestra and complimented him on his great ability to accomplish so much with the orchestra in so few rehearsals. Mrs. Weems introduced Mrs. John P. Ross, coordinator of the project and chairman of the day; and other committee members, Mrs. John T. Simpson, projects chairman; Mrs. Madge Bair, Mrs. S. J. Nock and Mrs. William Gibbs. Mrs. J. E. Hutton, membership chairman for the orchestra, was introduced by Mrs. Weems and thanked for her efforts in organizing the orchestra.

Scott spoke of the enthusiasm among the students, their parents and teachers, and expressed appreciation to the BFWY committee for its sponsorship of the orchestra. He stated that there were many Arcadia children in the audience and reminded their parents of the splendid opportunities offered by the Arcadia schools in musical training. Francis Boyer, orchestra director of Arcadia schools, was introduced by Scott.

The program opened with Mozart's allegro from "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik" by the full orchestra. Arlis Hampton played the Gypsy Dance by Ernest; Carol Hendrixson, as a piano solo, played prelude in C Minor by Rachmaninoff.

Student director, Jim Douglass, directed the orchestra in minuet from "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," by Mozart; Marilyn Greve, violin solo, Sixth Hungarian Dance by Brahms, and Marilyn and her sister, Joyce, as a violin-duo, played Second Little Symphony by Dancie.

Another orchestra number was minuet from First Symphony by Valensin; Lois Madeline Lowe, violin solo, Czardas by Monti; Carol Scrutchfield, harp solo, Liebestraum by Liszt. A string quartet composed of Marianna Maier, first violin; Lois Knock, second violin; Ruth Knock, viola, and Laurel Hutton, cello, played Austrian hymn and duet from Magic Flute. The program concluded with the orchestra's playing Victor Herbert's Romany Life.

Following the concert, refreshments were served in the foyer of the clubhouse. The long lace-covered tables were beautifully decorated with camellias and tapers by Mmes. Knock and Bair. Pouring were Mmes. Ross, Simpson, Weems and Gibbs.

Orchestra personnel included the following young people: Jon Alroth, Elissa Batterson, Jim Douglass, Jeanne Farnam, Barbara Folger, Marita Frank, Cappy Frohlich, Joyce Greve, Marilyn Greve, Barbara Haddock, Arlis Hampton, Georgla Harris, Joyce Harris, Kurt Hasselhorst, Margaret Hetrick, Cynthia Ingram, Lois Knock, Lois Madeleine Lowe, Marianna Maier, James Manzullo, Rosemarie Mason, Denise Mezek, Desiree Mongar.

CHURCHES TAKE ACTION, MAKE STATEMENTS ON TRACK GIFTS

Six Arcadia churches this week either returned checks presented them by the Los Angeles Turf Club Inc. or issued statements that they had not been offered money by the Turf Club, whose news release recently stated that it had distributed $5000 in gifts to "the churches of Arcadia."

The American Lutheran church and the First Baptist church of Arcadia returned checks presented to them, the Baptist church on a vote of its board of deacons not to accept the contribution and the Lutheran church with a statement that its rejection was based "on the moral issue of gambling." The Lutheran congregation voted unanimously to reject the race track gift.

The Rev. Thatcher Jordan of the Methodist Church of the Good Shepherd said that no Turf Club money has been offered his church since it returned a race track contribution several years ago. "Furthermore," the Rev. Mr. Jordan said, "it is the policy of the Church of the Good Shepherd not to accept money from gambling sources."

The Rev. Dr. J. Davis Barnard, speaking for his own Arcadia Presbyterian church and for the Christian Reform and American Friends churches, said, "These churches are not only opposed to receiving money from an institution that derives its income mainly from gambling, but they also are opposed to being a part of favorable publicity for such an institution."

When informed of the statements, Robert Strub, assistant general manager of the Los Angeles Turf club stated: "The churches that we have been giving to in Arcadia for many years originally solicited us for donations. The recent announcement simply covered a renewal of this relationship."

My dear Mrs. Munro:

Mrs. Bernadette Baudouin called yesterday afternoon and brought me your wonderful parcel containing so many good things. What wonderful things you send me! I am worried about the expense you and your friends have gone to, as everything is so expensive nowadays. Your kindness is indeed great, and your generosity towards me touches me very deeply.

When I wear the beautiful fur jacket you sent me last summer, I am indeed the center of admiration and all my friends agree that the jacket is magnificent. Mrs. Baudouin herself thinks it is beautiful - how kind of her to have given my name to you. My dear Mrs. Munro, in my loneliness as a bedridden invalid, it warms my heart to have your sympathy which reconciles me with living.

Again many thanks to you and please believe in my gratitude and my best regards.

Dear Mrs. Munro:

We have just received the charming (Xmas) card and we are very happy for this proof of friendship towards us.

We thank all for the good wishes and send our's in return.

My (five) little children thought the card (with the nativity scene) was beautiful, and my older son, Maurice, who is quite good at drawing and painting, made a charcoal drawing of the illustration shown on the card to keep forever.

We also received almost at the same time the two packages. You don't know how thankful I am for the clothes for my little daughter and for the parcel of small Xmas presents. I am so thankful for the joy they gave our children.

Everything is wonderful and fits perfectly. I have a sewing machine and I can fit everything myself, therefore, everything sent helps me so much, because I cannot afford to buy any clothes. These packages are a wonderful help to me.

I am leaving in a few days to be with my parents, some 400 kilometers from Paris. I shall go to bid good bye to Mlle Regnier before I leave. I would like her to come to see me during vacation. I know I shall always keep a real friendship with her.

Please accept Mrs. Munro, the grateful affection of your French friends. All the best to you and your friends.

Bouillies December 14, 1951.

Dear Mrs. Munro and Members of the Club:

I have just received a package of canned goods, shirts, two suits, 4 dresses, a box of candies, rice, sugar, and oil. For these my Mother, Father, grandmother and I thank you, and your friends a thousand times. Also for the shoes which fit me very well and look very chic with my blue suit.

The 12 children's dresses, skirts, blouses and sweaters from the club members were given to many of the children of my friends and pupils. They do not understand why Americans give away clothing in such excellent condition.

It is too bad you cannot see our family when the packages arrive. It is with almost childish pleasure that we watch them being opened and there is always something for all of us and it all fits so perfectly. You may think I talk too much about clothes, but I only want you to know how much the generosity of the Americans is appreciated.

I have good news to report. After many interviews I was selected to teach the children of the army officer's under General Eisenhower the French language. This is being accomplished under S.H.A.P.E. School opens in 3 weeks, I am rather anxious, but I am pleased to be meeting so many foreign people. They are also giving me a flat rent free and I shall eat in the same hall as the army officers. Now will be my first opportunity to taste and judge American cooking!

We in France as well as all of Europe cannot bear to think of another war and so hope that the conflicts will be limited to the Far East. War has been going on much too long already.

Again many thanks to you and your generous friends and to you all the best wishes for a good new year.

NOTE: This 23 yr. old girl won a scholarship, attended university and supported her sickly parents and grandmother simultaneously. All her letters are written in English.

"BUILD FREEDOM WITH YOUTH" Committee Report

Mrs. J. K. Weems, chairman

On March 6, 1951, the Executive Board of The Woman's Club of Arcadia, with an active membership of 230, voted to enter the contest of The General Federation of Women's Clubs "Build Freedom With Youth" contest. This was ratified by the Club membership.

To a community the size and scope of Arcadia, California, which is a suburban town already having growing pains, this was a tremendous challenge. Arcadia is a Chartered City, with a Council-Manager type of government, with an area of nearly 11 square miles; 145 miles of paved streets; elevation 345 to 983 feet; average rainfall 15 inches; assessed valuation $40,468,210.00; business licenses 2,500; one newspaper, Arcadia Tribune, semi-weekly; postal receipts $219,134.32; total school registration - public schools 4100, parochial 1510; banks 3; tax rate - City $1.12, County $4.8872, total $6.0072; complete sewer system; population 25,000; average family unit 3.1; municipal water system city owned and operated; home owners 97%; only a small portion zoned for industry.

The approach to this challenge was in three avenues, financially, spiritually and culturally. With few exceptions, the population is definitely in the middle or lower income bracket. The history of the town is that it has been overshadowed by the Santa Anita Race Track, which is placed practically in the center of the town. The rapid growth of new and large churches is concrete evidence that our ministers are doing more than giving ground to the Los Angeles Turf Club. Culturally, most of the people were content to go either in to Pasadena or Los Angeles for their cultural enjoyment, without developing their own Symphonies, etc. The new Arcadia High School has given impetus to such development, so when our "Build Freedom With Youth" projects began, we found many needed places for our money, also much assistance from the Unified School District and officers.

The Third Annual Peach Blossom Festival came shortly after we entered the contest, so we decided to have as our very first project, the sponsoring of a Queen for the Festival and entering a float, designed and decorated by the members of the Woman's Club. The contestants for the Queen were daughters of club members from the ages of 16 to 20. One of our departments, the Evening Division, also entered a float. The Club entry won sweepstake prize and the Evening Division won second prize. For a club of 230 active members, we considered this quite an accomplishment. Note pictures and news clippings.

The problem of other projects and money to finance was the immediate issue. In setting up the committee of forty women, it was decided to divide the group into a Fund Raising group, with Mrs. B. E. Turner as vice-chairman in charge of raising funds, and a project chairman, with Mrs. John T. Simpson in charge of projects.

We had three money making projects besides one of the Evening Division projects of Assistance to Needy Children in which this group raised $711.00, by paper drives and food booth sales. On the Advertising campaign, which was held during a very bad heat wave, we netted $1700.00. Next we had a donation ticket sale on gifts donated by the merchants of Arcadia. These included a T.V. set, a foam rubber mattress, a year's supply of gasoline and motor oil, a set of Pennsylvania tires, a lady's Elgin wrist watch, three sets of play shoes with bags to match, a sillex, copper pictures, sets of pottery, etc. This drawing was held the night of our Country Fair and netted

Arcadia Woman's Club

ARCADIA, CALIFORNIA

$987.00. The Country Fair, held September 29, 1951, netted $305.00. The expenses of the Fair were heavy as we decided to have paid musicians for the Teen-age dance which followed our early program in the evening, which was a Youth Concert by Mel Pratt's accordin band. Refreshments were also served to the youth. The net total of $3,703.77 we had to finance our projects with.

At the Country Fair we used 16 Girl Scouts and 16 Camp Fire Girls from O-DA-KOTA group to serve the ham dinner. Approximately 100 teen-agers enjoyed the dance, aside from the program of Mel Kaiser's dance class and the 16 members of Mel Pratt's accordin band. Assisting in selling the donation tickets were forty DeMolay teen-agers and forty Job's Daughters who worked in their spare time all summer helping us sell the donation tickets.

An invitation was issued to the following groups, which were selected because of their interest in youth activities. However, all groups interested were welcomed. Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Coordinating Council, PTA Council, Presbyterian Youth Fellowship, Methodist Youth Fellowship, Holy Angels PTA, Arcadia City Schools, MD Student Body - Arcadia Representatives, Arcadia High School Student Body, DeMolay, Job's Daughters, Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Lions Club, Optimist Club, Kiwanis Club, Knights of The Round Table, Knights of Columbus, Downtown Arcadia Business Association, West Arcadia Business Association, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Recreation Commission, Women's Division of Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, Masonic Lodge, Eastern Star Chapter, Holy Angels Altar Society, Junior Women's Club, American Association of University Wpmen.

Much enthusiasm was shown at our first meeting held to decide which projects were to be adopted. A list of suggested projects was read, groups appointed to investigate the need of these projects and report at our next meeting held July 23rd, when we voted to adopt the following projects and follow through with all of our ability to making them a success. A CO-ORDINATOR was named for each project. These projects are not to be confused with the usual philanthropies of our club.

One of the "Build Freedom With Youth" projects which will be of lasting benefit to Arcadia youth is our Educational Fund of $1000.00. A Student Loan Fund of $1000.00 has been set up in the Bank of America in Arcadia for the purpose of assisting Arcadia students to enter college. This is the first of this kind of fund ever made available to the students in Arcadia. It is set up as a memorial fund and can never be used for purposes other than Arcadia youth assistance. The Loan is now in effect, and candidates are to be recommended by the Arcadia High School board.

In March, 1951, a check of $50.00 was given to the District Chairman on nurses' scholarships, Mrs. C. H. O'Neal of Pasadena. Another check of $100.00 has been added to this nurses' fund. We took into consideration the dire need of nurses due to the continued Korean crisis. The money will be used for a student nurse now in training in Huntington Memorial hospital. The student is Miss Arlene Wutke from San Gabriel, California. Enclosed in clipping book is a letter acknowledging the money for the scholarship.

"ARCADIA NEW HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY"
Project No. 5

Mrs. John T. Simpson, co-ordinator DO 7-5469

Enclosed are the two letters from the Unified School Board of Education acknowledging the Arcadia High School New Library donation of $500.00 to be used in buying books for the new library. This was given impetus as the "Build Freedom With Youth" committee considers the new High School in Arcadia to be the most progressive step the community has taken in recent years.

"ARCADIA NEW HIGH SCHOOL ART"
Project No. 6

Mrs. Wood Glover, co-ordinator DO 7-1368

The committee feels that stimulating Art in the new High School is of paramount importance, and we therefore set aside a check of $300.00 which already has been presented, to be used for paintings in the new high school plant.

"ARCADIA NEW HIGH SCHOOL FIRST STUDENT BODY FUND"
Project No. 7

Mrs. John T. Simpson, co-ordinator DO 7-5469

A contribution of $50.00 to the First Student Body Fund of Arcadia High School was a part of our program. These students are without funds to get out their first school annual. This step will no doubt be an incentive and suggestion to other organizations to make like donations.

"STUDENT EXCHANGE"
Project No. 8

Arcadia Woman's Club

Procedure:

1. Write National Federation headquarters for literature and comments on Federation experience with student exchanges.
2. Write State Federation headquarters for literature and comments on State experience with student exchanges.
3. Present recommendation at October 5th BFWY Committee meeting.
4. If adopted, correspond with students and report periodically to Club and press.

BFWY Committee Personnel: Mrs. E. J. Fuerst, co-ordinator DO 7-6764

On our Student Exchange project we decided to cooperate with The General Federation who likewise cooperates with The Institute of International Education. In selecting a Pan-American student an exchange of students can do a great deal to promote good will. Scholarships are offered throughout the world for this purpose, many of which are not complete. A total scholarship is a package containing international transportation, room, board, tuition and incidental expenses. We feel this to be one of the most progressive projects voted by the BFWY committee. We finished out a package with a check of $300.00 which was sent to the Institute of International Education, W. 45th St., New York City, N.Y., December 5, 1951. Enclosed is a receipt from the Institute.

At a meeting in June, 1951, of the "Build Freedom With Youth" Committee of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, jointly with representatives of organized youth groups of Arcadia, a Little Theatre Group in our city was proposed as a cultural need by the young people present. In a meeting of the BFWY committee in July, it was accepted as one of the projects of the BFWY program. Mrs. Ray Allen Young was appointed co-ordinator of the project.

The Arcadia Little Theatre Group was organized on Wednesday evening, November 7, 1951, by Mrs. Young. The Organizational plans were consummated in the adult evening High School class of Speech and Drama, with the members of the class forming the nucleus of membership. Mrs. Ray Allen Young was elected president; Mrs. Helen Larner, vice-president; Mr. Charles Daniels, secretary; Mr. George Davidson, treasurer, and Countess Electra Rozanska, director. Committee chairmen were appointed.

The Board of Advisors were obtained by Mrs. Young. They are as follows: Mayor

Sullivan; Mr. Molino, superintendent of Arcadia Evening High Schools; Mrs. Simpson, School Board member; Mel Pratt, local merchant; Gilmore Brown, Board of Directors of Pasadena Playhouse; Mr. and Mrs. Hettenbach, citizens; Hal Roach, local newspaper publisher; Jo Burcham, member of High School faculty; Mrs. Fred Wheeler, citizen; Mr. William Groen, Chamber of Commerce representative.

In August of 1951 the BFWY Committee allocated $25.00 to the Arcadia Little Theatre Group, to be used as the Elected Board deemed necessary in establishing its program.

Public invitation was extended to all youth and adults of Arcadia to join the Arcadia Little Theatre Group. 43 persons of all ages registered and have actively participated in the program. The group meets each week on Wednesday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. for instruction in speech development and exercises in stage technique. There are four one-act plays in production at present, to be presented publicly in April, 1952.

Members of the Little Theatre Group were guests of the La Canada Little Theatre Group in October where we enjoyed an evening of entertainment and fellowship. We were also guests of the John Muir College open house in January, 1952, where we were privileged to witness two stage productions by the class of Speech and Drama. In December, 1951, the Arcadia Little Theatre Group were hosts to La Canada and John Muir groups at a Christmas party when Patrick Mahoney, noted playwright of Ireland, spoke of his experiences on the stage. Two plays were given, one by Arcadia Little Theatre Group, and one by La Canada Little Theatre Group, in the First Avenue School Auditorium. Approximately 100 were in attendance. Coffee and do-nuts were served amid Christmas decorations and festivity.

Countess Electra Rozanska, our noted director and instructor, has been entertained as guest of the Drama Department of the Arcadia Woman's Club on two occasions, i.e., the regular meeting of the Drama Department and the Japanese Tea to be held in February, 1952.

The Little Theatre movement is the culmination of a plan of the "Build Freedom With Youth" committee which met last summer in the Woman's Club with other organizations interested in youth activities in Arcadia. All the youth present expressed their conviction of the need of this cultural activity in Arcadia. It is now in effect, rehearsing four plays to be given at early dates. It is the object of this newly formed Little Theatre Group to present plays decent in language and wholesome in content. Mrs. Ray Allen Young of the Woman's Club did a wonderful job as co-ordinator of this project. Countess Rozanska is director, with Mrs. Meryl Regnier of the Woman's Club, assistant director. The plays in rehearsal are "Audition," "Do Men Gossip?" "Jealousy Plays a Part," "Quilting Party."

The First Annual Art and Artercraft Exhibit was held November 3rd, at the Woman's Clubhouse. This was one of our BFWY Committee's most interesting projects. Arcadia, commonly referred to as a "Boots and Saddle" town, went all out to make this a success. Hundreds of visitors from all over San Gabriel Valley registered during the hours of 2 to 10 p.m., and were most enthusiastic over the paintings exhibited. John Palmer Leeper, director of Pasadena Art Institute, was an entertaining speaker on the evening program and urged people of this vicinity to take advantage of the rich program presented at Pasadena Art Institute. Mr. Leeper was formerly assistant director of the National Gallery of Art in Washington D.C. Awards of merit were given for original art and craft work in the professional, amateur and school divisions. It was interesting to note just how much talent was right here in Arcadia, and few people aware of its existence. This will be an annual event from now on.

On this panel was Mr. Thomas Cameron, member of the Clifford Bollman chapter of Dale Carnegie Institute. Kenneth H. Shanks, professor of USC, spoke on "Qualities of Individual Leadership." Bob Jensen, brilliant student from USC and a native of Denmark, spoke on "The Test of our Civilization," and Bill Prout, high school student, spoke on "Leadership in Secondary Schools." This program was indeed a lesson all ages enjoyed and could profit from. Refreshments were served following the program. Presiding at the tea table were: Mrs. Raymond Kennett, co-ordinator; Mrs. Ray Allen Young; Mrs. John T. Simpson, project chairman; Mrs. J. K. Mr. Joseph Henry, a representative of the Institute of Family Relations in Los Angeles, is well known throughout this area. He gave a splendid lecture and then held a question-answer period. Refreshments were served following the program, with Mrs. McAbery and Mrs. Balthes presiding at the tea table.

"Arboretum Science Memorial Tree Planting" was another project of BFWY. As a tribute to high school youths who have given their lives in the Korean conflict, a stately redwood tree was planted in special ceremonies November 13th, at 10 a.m. Mrs. Ralph Hankins was co-ordinator of the project which was attended by a group of local civic groups and leaders. Officials of the BFWY contest and Woman's Club have announced their hope that the youth of Arcadia high school will perpetuate the project with an annual memorial tree planting. The "Dawn Redwood" tree planted is known in international language as Metasequoia Glyptostroboidea. This particular species of tree was first collected in China in 1945. In 1948 it was described as a species new to science by Dr. Chang and Dr. Wu of China. It was found to be a living remnant of what was previously considered an extinct fossil plant, representatives of which have been preserved not only in China but also in North America.

"ANTI-NARCOTICS CAMPAIGN"
Project No. 16

Procedure:

1. Call Mrs. Frohlich of P.T.A. Council, informing her of BFWY interest in Anti-Narcotic program.
2. Suggest and attend meeting of PTA and Mr. Molino of Schools to foster student body health commission program as initiated in MD by Mr. Molino.

BFWY Committee Personnel: Mrs. Verne Winchell, co-ordinator CU 5-4569

"Anti-Narcotic Campaign" was a project which the committee of BFWY felt to be a must in our list of projects. This program aroused us to do our best. Realizing the appalling fact that the dope menace contributed greatly to the record of a crime every eighteen seconds last year, that narcotic crazed "rat packs" beating and killing innocent persons, the product of indifference to moral welfare of youth, prompted us to bring a staff speaker of the Narcotic Educational Foundation of America, to our Woman's Club January 2, 1952.

The Anti-Narcotic campaign has long been a main issue of the youth conservation program of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. In line with this, the Build Freedom With Youth committee feels the need of stronger narcotic controls, and has considered this one of our most worthwhile projects.

"EMPLOYMENT SERVICE"
Project No. 17

Procedure: (Referred to Chamber of Commerce)

1. Meet with Chamber of Commerce and school representative, outlining need for establishment of job placement service for Arcadia High School students in Arcadia.
2. Publicize Chamber of Commerce and school joint project as being initiated as a result of need determined at BFWY meeting.
3. Assist in community orientation and in any other way desired by Chamber of Commerce and schools.

BFWY Committee Personnel: Mrs. Ardene Boller, co-ordinator CU 5-1289

"Employment Service" project, with Mrs. Ardene Boller as co-ordinator, marks the first time that a service of this nature has been offered the youth of this area. It was adopted on the expressed desire of high school students who attended the BFWY committee meetings held throughout the summer. Working on the project with Mrs. Boller are: Edward Beaty of the Chamber of Commerce; Henry Molino, director of instruction of the Arcadia Unified School district and principal of Adult Education; Otto Roemmich, vice principal of Arcadia High School, and Mrs. Marion Woodward. During the Christmas holidays thirty were employed by the local merchants. All expressed their satisfaction with the capable way Mr. Chester Van Hellen handled the work permits of the students as well as the fine calibre of work the students turned out.

"CAREER DAYS 1951-1952"
Project No. 18

The project "Career Days" proves the ever present willingness of the club women and business men to cooperate with the school authorities in the prosecution of any plans for the advancement of youth in our community.

Arcadia Woman's Club
Box 861
ARCADIA, CALIFORNIA

In spite of everyone's desire to cooperate to the fullest, we had some difficulties due to the school situation. This is the first year in which any high school students have been educated in Arcadia. The tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade students will continue to be educated at Monrovia-Duarte High School, from which union Arcadia withdrew. Our own plant buildings have just been started. It has been necessary, therefore, to crowd the ninth graders in with the seventh and eighth graders at First Avenue School. The fact that the auditorium only seats 350, yet there are 1027 students in the three grades, has further complicated matters!

We Arcadia women were determined, however, to do everything possible for the youth of the city, in response to their expressed desires at our Build Freedom With Youth committee meeting on September 24, 1951. Stanley Rickard, Joyce Emery and Kippy Perrine were the high school students who expressed a desire to help on Career Days. They all said that they thought an employment service would be the most appreciated activity we could promote. So, plans were set into operation by our Committee before Christmas vacation.

Mr. Edward Beaty, Chamber of Commerce Secretary, put a call for jobs in his monthly bulletin. Mrs. Marion Woodward, Girls' Counselor, worked to place many boys, as well as girls, in the jobs made available. She reports getting employment for boys doing mowing and other garden work, washing windows, cleaning stores and acting as box boys at the super markets. Many of these, she says, have developed into permanent part-time jobs. (Our own son, for example, worked in the local Sporting Goods store during Christmas vacation and is continuing to work on Saturdays. He cleans, waits on trade at rush times, and has even written letters!) Mrs. Woodward has placed several girls in homes as mothers' helpers and many as baby sitters. Three of her girls worked five or six hours apiece blowing up balloons for a Junior League Party at Santa Anita Turf Club.

There were not nearly as many jobs offered, of course, as there were students anxious to fill them, because few of the business men have jobs suitable for high school Freshmen. Some of the mothers wanting help would not trust their babies to girls that young. However, Mr. Otto Roemmich, Assistant Principal, complimented our committee very highly for promoting this service. He told us how he practically had to "punch doorbells" trying to get jobs for students in the school where he was last employed. Our newspaper publicity and the Chamber bulletin helped to "find" the jobs, and the Chamber office also took calls from both students and employers during vacation.

We have formulated plans to continue this Employment Service during the summer time, with the help of the Chamber of Commerce through its very efficient paid secretary. Several of the students have indicated a willingness to help also.

At our committee meetings, various types of programs were suggested and fully considered as possibilities for our Career Day or Days. For instance, we discussed having on-the-job participation, or at least "viewing," for the ninth graders. This has been promoted previously by the Arcadia Rotary and Lions Clubs. Students from the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte High School, from which we are now separated, participated. They visited local business concerns and professional offices. But it did not prove too successful -- from the standpoint of the students or the men! We decided against it, for the present at least, as being much too advanced for ninth graders as a whole.

We considered having an evening program on Vocational Guidance, with the parents invited to accompany their children. That was dropped because of the inadequate size of the school auditorium and the immaturity of the students.

Arcadia Woman's Club

Box 861
ARCADIA, CALIFORNIA

It was felt that the most important thing for the students of the grade levels we now have at First Avenue, is their deciding whether they want vocational or university training. Achievement and mental maturity tests are now being given to the 7th, 8th and 9th graders to determine their abilities. Mrs. Woodward and Mr. Howard Wray, Boys' Counselor, help the students in choosing their electives, basing their advice upon the students' capabilities and their likelihood of being able to afford advanced education.

Mr. Henry Molino, Director of Instruction, who has been most helpful at committee meetings, has assured us that more intensive testing will be done next year with the 10th grade unit. This will further help to determine mental fitness, interest and aptitude. He also plans an Orientation course, starting next fall, which will impress students on a group basis and an individual basis, with the necessity for certain training.

When the Commercial Course is fully developed, Mr. Molino hopes that the class in Business Education may be tied in with the Employment Service, now started, by having seniors serve as part-time workers in local business concerns.

We considered having an essay contest -- What Requirements or What Preparation Do I Need For My Chosen Vocation? But that was voted down, for we felt the benefits that might be derived by those participating, are already being provided by the tests and counseling they now have.

Miss Joan Bateman, an Arcadia girl who attends Pasadena City College, said she thought a vocational guidance program like that of her school would prove more helpful to high school than to junior college students. Successful people in various careers are invited to speak to students interested in their fields. They talk and lead panel discussions in various department classrooms, instead of a customary general assembly. The adult committee members feared that this might be too advanced for 9th graders. So, it was decided to present motion pictures on vocations --- some showing actual training for different careers. These pictures are coming from the Los Angeles County Schools' office and will be viewed at a Career Day the first week in February.

Mr. Roemmich and your co-ordinator have agreed to prepare a questionnaire, based on what the students have seen in the pictures. When the results are tabulated we will know if the students have sufficient interest or desire to make it worthwhile for us to proceed with a program such as that of Pasadena City College. We'll discover if they would be interested in displays that the colleges and universities are always anxious to give; or, if those interested in business or manual arts, would appreciate an "on the job" view. We expect to have these "Career Days" in March.

We are sorry that this part of our plans could not be completed before the closing of the Build Freedom With Youth contest. But the physical "set-up" of our schools being what it is, and the staff being so involved in administrative detail resulting from the change, we felt it unfair to "push" them too much. We have absolute confidence that the well-laid plans will be carried out.

"FREEDOM ESSAY CONTEST"
Project No. 19

Procedure: (Referred to American Legion Auxiliary)

1. Get in touch with Auxiliary offering to serve on their contest committee; suggest inclusion of word "freedom" in essay contest title for 1951.
2. Arrange with Mrs. McAbery to honor Arcadia contest winners at the Woman's Club regular luncheon meeting.
3. Act as MC at luncheon.

BFWY Committee Personnel: Mrs. J. V. Covell, co-ordinator DO 7-2479

Plans have been formulated for a luncheon program to be given under the auspices of the Woman's Club of Arcadia as a part of their "Build Freedom With Youth" program. This occasion will give Mrs. J. Victor Covell, co-ordinator, an opportunity to present student winners in the American Legion Auxiliary's Essay Contest, conducted annually in our local schools and throughout the state, as part of its Americanism activity. The American Legion Auxiliary's official 18th District Glee Club, "The Baldwin Park Choralettes" will furnish music for the occasion. This Glee Club is made up of young wives of World War II veterans and is under the leadership of Lila Vergate. At the 1951 State Convention of the American Legion Auxiliary, held in San Diego last September, this choral group won first place in their class and brought this honor to the 18th District, of which Mrs. Covell is now serving as president.

"ASSISTANCE TO NEEDY CHILDREN"
Project No. 20

Mrs. Robert Munro, co-ordinator

EL 8-0637

Twice during the summer months we collected warm clothing, particularly skirts and blouses and coats, all in excellent condition; sewed on buttons if missing, had soiled garments cleaned and mailed to war torn France. In November, 1951, we mailed a total of 135 pounds of clothing and staple food to the cities of Houilles, Rochechouart, Vaucresson, Nierve and Garches. Estimated value of food alone was $80.00, as arrid milk costs 67¢ per can. One member of the committee was personally acquainted with these families so correspondence was exchanged. Four of the packages were sent to a French school teacher who in turn distributed the clothing to her school children. Total poundage sent, 335 pounds. The teen-agers in Arcadia were helpful in collecting these clothes. We used thirty Jobbies and twenty DeMolay boys.

Locally we decided to provide Christmas gifts for 165 half orphans. These are County Ward children placed in private homes throughout San Gabriel Valley area, the section we chose. These children usually have one remaining parent too ill to care for them, or the mother or father has re-married and refused to take the child into the new home. These parents, however, are not willing to sign relinquishing papers that these unfortunate children can be adopted. A group of the BFWY committee contacted county officials, through The Bureau of Assistance, asking for the most needy and the most needy homes where these children were placed. We had the County Social workers give the children a list to name three things they wanted most for Christmas. Over five hundred gifts were donated. Most of the teen-agers wanted clothes, some of the boys wanted wallets. These were given with a dollar bill in each one. All the clothes were absolutely new. For the girls, matching gathered skirts and a cardigan were made to waist and length measurements. Sport shirts for the boys were made to neck and sleeve measurements, as well as dozens of Hop-a-long Cassidy outfits. One boy wanted a microscope, which was provided. Over fifty dolls were dressed, eight doll beds, five doll buggies, four tricycles and nine doll houses. In each case we provided two of the gifts out of the three these half-orphans asked for.

On the toys, we gathered some used ones from our club members whose children had passed the age, and they were sanded and re-painted until an expert could not have told the difference. This work was done in the garage of Mrs. W. D. Gibbs' home on South Santa Anita Ave., Arcadia, where the toys were sorted, painted, finished and wrapped. We would meet at 10 a.m. and work through to 6 p.m., stopping briefly for a sandwich and milk. Then after dinner in the evening we would re-convene, working until 12 midnight. In all, four hundred hours were put in and $711.77 spent on this one project, not counting labor. When all were finished we loaded six station wagons and four cars, delivering them to the County Regional Office in El Monte, California. We used the 4-H Club to help sew and they made twelve skirts for the girls and twelve jackets for the boys. In the collection of toys we used 20 4-H girls, 20 Boy Scouts, 10 Brownies and 10 Camp Fire Girls, who collected and delivered to the garage at Mrs. Gibbs' home where we finished, wrapped and labeled the project for delivery.

The San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony was the last and twenty-second "Build Freedom With Youth" project voted by the committee and ratified by the Woman's Club of Arcadia, California. It was formed by the Committee in its exploration for worthy and most needed youth projects. That there was a great need in the community for a Junior Symphony orchestra, where young people of musical background and training who lacked experience on ensemble playing, so necessary to their development, could be trained. Then as they progressed and reached the required age, they would be eligible for membership in the Senior San Gabriel Valley Symphony, or other comparable orchestral groups. For the first time in history, we have an organized Junior Symphony. This also makes the first time that the door of symphonic music participation has swung open to all junior musicians in this locality.

Mr. Harold Scott, founder and director of the San Gabriel Senior Symphony, is the Director. Fifty-four youngsters from the cities of Arcadia, Pasadena, El Monte, Sierra Madre, Temple City, Rosemead, Monrovia and Duarte, have already enrolled, three having been added to the above list on the day of the first concert. Rehearsals are held once each week. Additional stringed-instrument players who have attained the intermediate or advanced levels will be accepted.

On February 3, 1952, from 4 to 6 p.m., the first concert, a Candlelight Symphony, was given at The Woman's Clubhouse. A capacity audience of several hundred men, women and children attended. After the delightful program, tea was served in the foyer, with Mrs. Bruce McAbery and Mrs. J. K. Weems pouring. Mrs. John P. Ross, co-ordinator of the project, was in charge. Her committee consisted of Mrs. John T. Simpson, Mrs. H. J. Bair, Mrs. W. D. Gibbs, Mrs. S. J. Nock, Mrs. Verne Winchell, Mrs. Catherine Mundy, Miss Mary Valentine, and Mrs. J. E. Hutton, recruitment chairman.

Parents all over San Gabriel Valley are praising the Arcadia Woman's Club for so worthwhile a project. In the final analysis, the consensus of opinion is that these twenty-two projects undertaken and completed all or in part by the Arcadia Woman's Club, is the finest thing ever done for the youth in this community. There have been long, gruelling months of committee meetings, of money raising, plans and counter-plans. To see the eyes of the youngsters light up as Mr. Scott wields the baton, or lifts a hand makes all work and disappointment very infinitesimal. At each rehearsal there is marked improvement noted. Their talent, their love for the opportunity given them, the gratitude manifested and exemplified in every way more than repays huge dividends for all trouble and work involved.

These young people are being taught by precept and example what freedom really means, to be free to express one's own talent, to accept opportunities as only a free nation can and does offer.

The "Build Freedom With Youth" program has served a wonderful purpose throughout the nation in selling our way of life to the youth of our nation. As the curtain rings down on the contest, we who have participated, know that these projects will go on for many years, and that our community will be better for having the faith and initiative to put our best efforts into them.
